

Wing, Hoof and Paw

An Animal Companion Oracle

SAMPLE

Written by Angi Sullins
Artwork by Stephanie Roberts

Copyright © 2024 Duirwaigh Studios, Inc.
& U.S. Games Systems, Inc.

All rights reserved. The illustrations, cover design, and contents are protected by copyright. No part of this book may be reproduced in any graphic, electronic or mechanical form including photocopying, recording, taping or by any information storage retrieval system without permission in writing from the publisher, except by a reviewer who wishes to quote brief passages in connection with a review for inclusion in a magazine, newspaper or online journal.

10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1

Made in China

SAMPLE

Created by Duirwaigh Studios, Inc.
www.duirwaigh.com

Published by
U.S. GAMES SYSTEMS, INC.
179 Ludlow Street
Stamford, CT 06902 USA
www.usgamesinc.com

Using the Deck

I love oracle decks because I love freedom. There's no one right way to use them, so you can't go wrong.

Consider a daily reading to gain a companion for the day. The meanings and associations can guide or direct you as life unfolds in the moment.

Or pull a card when you have a specific question. Get clear and quiet. Center yourself inside your heart and ask your question while shuffling the cards. Pull just one card and see how it addresses your question. Do you need to listen and consider the message? Or, do you need to take action? Trust your gut to tell you, as the animals speak to your situation.

A standard favorite of mine is the three card spread. Whether you start with a specific question, or just want a check-in to gain insight to your current moment, shuffle the cards and choose three of them. Lay them in front of you in a row and use the one on the left to address your past, the one in the middle to reveal the present, and the one on the right to consider the future. Look for any relationships you see between the three creatures. Ponder whether or not each card stands alone, or if you recognize a story being told. Sometimes a three card spread isn't just directional. Sometimes it tells a narrative, illuminating a situation you didn't even realize was bothering you.

However you choose to use the cards (even if you choose to wallpaper your closet with them), I hope they bring you inspiration and the wild, creative joy of the little one within.

Past

Present

Future

Lemur · Communing with Ghosts

Lemur · Communing with Ghosts

Lemur literally means “ghost.” This little whimsical wonder encourages you to get in touch with your own ghosts, spirits and invisible friends who bring messages from Otherwhere. This includes your personal specters of past experiences, which sometimes haunt the graveyard of the psyche. While ghosts have been known to haunt both places and people, our own personal ghosts of past failures, losses and traumas haunt our hearts. They limit the chances we take and the risks we deem worthwhile. Lemur, with his ringed tail and large red eyes, is here to remind you that working with ghosts, especially those of past failures, should involve a sense of humor and whimsy. He’s scampered into your reading today to encourage your sense of adventure when exploring what has died off in your life, what haunts you, and what is waiting to be transformed, ultimately returning to the light.

Cat · Receptivity

Cat · Receptivity

Who can resist the power of the purr? Kitty knows how to receive. She effortlessly receives cuddling and petting, and, in doing so, creates a soothing contentment for herself and her companion. Her purr is a regulating element, calming the nervous system into quiet relaxation. The little one within remembers how to receive. She came into the world with this deservedness, receiving cuddles and hugs and cooing and stroking without having to please her parents or prove her worth to anyone. She is like Kitty, who knows it is right and good to receive pleasure and tenderness. Soothe the little one within. Tell her how beautiful she is, how lovely, how kissable and huggable she is, just as she is. Soon, she will radiate the sense of worthiness outward to you like a purr. And you can carry this ease of being and deservedness from room to room, from thought to thought, from interaction to interaction throughout your day, your life, your world.

For our complete line of tarot decks, books, meditation and yoga cards, oracle sets, and other inspirational products, please visit our website:
www.usgamesinc.com

Explore more
Duirwaigh Studios products:

SAMPLE

Stay connected with us:

U.S. GAMES SYSTEMS, INC.