INTRODUCTION

It's always fascinating to watch a person grow and evolve. It's in our nature to be curious of others and how and why they do the things they do. In Stardust Wanderer Tarot, our Wanderer is Mena, who has a Space Pirate captain for a father and a goddess for an aunt. We follow Mena on her adventures through the galaxy, as she discovers her place and purpose in life. Throughout this deck, we will witness all of Mena's changes and transformations as she travels the path to becoming an adult. We will also get to know the people who shape Mena's world, Space Pirates who live by their and doing it anyway. All the Space Pirates are fully aware of the gods' and goddesses' place in this universe. Mena has always held Athena in high regard and looked up to her strength. As Mena goes through her journey, she learns how Athena was able to achieve this power and she lets the goddess' experiences guide and strengthen her.

Avast Ye!

Patience is key and sometimes that can be the hardest part in a situation. Knowing you can hold your actions and words until the right time demonstrates a maturity that will be noticed.

Batten Down the Hatches

Your ego may be loud and demanding you to react to something. Take a moment to reorient yourself to what is going on from an intellectual, rather than emotional, perspective.

IX ☿ THE HERMIT

Element: Earth

Zodiac: Virgo

Planet: Mercury

Cronos is here to remind you that no one can stop the passage of time. With this knowledge, he calls you to intuit when it's time to sit back and refocus. There are times when we need to retreat into our own spaces to rethink and reframe our intentions. Don't stay here for too long; just enough time to sort a few things out. One of the reasons Mena started her adventure of self-discovery was that she became aware of how time changes all around her, and she began contemplating what she wants out of life.

Avast Ye!

When big changes or decisions are presented to you, don't rush in without thinking. Take time to reflect on how you feel about what's going on in the world. Sometimes, the best company is your own, especially when you can be honest with yourself. When this card comes up, take a pause.

Batten Down the Hatches

You took the time to reflect, but now you may be stuck in that still energy. This reflection process is meant as a short-term thing. If you feel stuck, it's perhaps time to talk to a trusted friend and break free of your impasse, allowing you to move forward again.

X ☉ WHEEL OF FORTUNE

Element: Fire
Zodiac: Capricorn
Planet: Jupiter

The collection of figures around the Wheel of Fortune brings us to the conclusion that there are a lot of choices and/or perspectives within this space. It also indicates that what comes around goes around; and whether or not you are ready, the universal energy keeps that wheel turning.

Avast Ye!

Good fortune may be on the way, but only if you believe it to be true. The universe is ready to reward you; you just need to be willing to accept it. It may be destiny or simply luck, but don't ignore your chance, or it will pass you by. You deserve it.

Batten Down the Hatches

You win some and you lose some; that's just the spice of life. If an opportunity has been missed, don't lose hope; it may come back again in a different way. Now that you are aware, you can be on the lookout for it. Don't dwell on misfortune; sometimes it happens for a reason, and that reason will show up eventually.

XI ☿ JUSTICE

Element: Air

Zodiac: Libra

Planet: Venus

Karmic justice can be complex. When Themis, the goddess of divine justice is your navigator, you know she will make the appropriate decision because your own actions brought you here. This is not a bad thing. Themis doesn't see good and bad; she just sees what is. As the journey unfolds for Mena, she starts to realize the role Themis has and respects the necessary balance of power, which sometimes must swing the other way. She weighs decisions with a clear heart and mind. You should do the same.

Avast Ye!

You must accept an outcome. Whether it's what you wanted or not, all the actions you have taken brought you here. If you want to change the course from this point, you can, but what is done is done. Being able to adapt and change as needed is paramount.

Batten Down the Hatches

An end result isn't always desirable or fair. When this card is reversed, that may be the case. When the powers that be get an unfair advantage, your choices may be limited. Maybe you weren't completely honest, and the outcome reflects this shortcoming.
