

17. her grace

THE GODDESS IS AWAKENING WITHIN YOUR LIFE. IT MAY BE within your own body, within a sensual deepening of relationship with your own body or with the body of another, through expanding creativity, a sudden burst of feeling that you cannot logically explain, a desire to move, to dance, to express yourself, to sing, to write music, to draw, to play in nature, to swim and to collect shells and lie on your back in the moonlight, gazing at the stars. Let her reach you. She is calling to you from ancient times, calling you to allow her more deeply into your life. Celebrate the divine feminine. She is coming to life for you! Whether man or woman, your life is about to be touched by her magic, never to be the same again.

This oracle brings you a message – there is a woman who brings divine blessing into your life who is trying to connect with you more deeply. The blessing may be one that is obvious or one that is hidden in a challenge. The woman may be your own body, if you are female, or your own inner feminine if you are male.

It may be a spiritual or physical being – the great mother, your lover, your sister or your dearest friend. It may be a woman as yet unknown to you but who holds a soul contract with you, an agreement pre-destined to awaken you. The empowerment will come to you not by rejecting what is offered by this feminine presence, but by embracing it and finding your truth through it. This is exciting because it means you are growing. You are entering into the feminine temples of wisdom and finding a home there.

I was born long before our time
And yet, my time with you
Is something new
For you awaken in me a spirit
That was longing for release
Waiting for your touch

I thought I was safe
To stay inside the boundaries and walls
I carried with me
You touched all of me
And we walked outside the lines
Together

18. distant shores

YOUR SOUL IS YEARNING FOR MORE. THE DIVINE IS ALL, AND there are no limits to what can be experienced by the Soul. The Soul is so hungry for divine reunion that it will seek out whatever is needed to get there, even if that means journeying to strange or exotic shores for expanded experience. You may be feeling this soul impulse as an urge to travel, to try something new, to let go of the limitations of your mind in how you see your current life and to begin to see the new in what was once familiar. The art of the passionate soul is to be able to see that which is new and fresh even in what is known, though sometimes, we can use the help of a fresh vista to inspire the mind to open and the heart to be ready to receive more. It's time for you to reach for the distant shores that are calling to you now, beloved. Don't pack your bags with too much though, you'll travel light and easy with less baggage and you'll need plenty of space to receive that which is new.

This oracle brings you a message – you will benefit greatly from travel right now. You may travel through the mind, reading journals of far away lands or times, or watch a film that transports you. Moving your body to a different place is another way – bringing fresh energy by unplugging you for a short time from what you know, to plug you in to a different circuit, so that you may receive different energy. So when the opportunity to travel arises for you soon, whether it be a jaunt far away or a day in a different place, take it. Don't worry if it doesn't seem practical. The divine is so much more important, intelligent, and capable of genius than what mere logic would have us believe.

*I waited for dawn, not wanting to go,
But knowing I soon would have to leave.
I waited for the first light, listening,
Joining with you on each breath
And each exhale.*

*I watched as morning came
And you gently stirred,
Knowing our love was not measured in time,
Not the minutes that quickly passed,
Or the hours as departure approached.*

*How I wanted to linger
How I wanted to tell you
That this moment would last forever
And whisper one more time, I love you.*

*And then you held me
And said it first
And goodbye no longer mattered.*

19. shakti

SHAKTI IS DIVINE FEMININE FIRE. SHE IS THE BODY AWAKENED with light. She is the divine feminine and she is the kundalini, the energetic force that moves through us, triggered by love that leads to enlightenment of our body. With our kundalini coming alive within us, we cannot remain as we once were. It is impossible! We may try to lead the same lives, be the same in our relationship patterns and perhaps even behave properly, but it simply cannot be done! Soon our disguise slips and people wonder, “What happened to her?” or “What has got into him?”. We are on fire with the divine and we cannot help but misbehave. We are no longer satisfied with trying to be the good child or fearing we are the bad child, we know ourselves instead to be the divine child. That child divine lives fully and with passionate fire, not doing things the way they are supposed to be done perhaps, but living instead from the heart. Our body may ache as we burn through old pain, and sometimes the light within may seem so bright it blinds us for the moment. But that will pass and the misbehaving will suddenly be seen for what it is – the old rules just don't fit anymore! You don't plug a globe capable of illuminating the whole world into the bedside reading lamp without burning down the house! Best to let that light shine as it was meant to, in the big arena. Shakti is making your light grow, beloved. Be prepared to shine brighter.

This oracle brings you a message – you are going through energetic shifts in your subtle anatomy. Because your energy body and physical body have already begun to merge with each other, the energetic shifts will affect your physical body too. It is always wise to consult a healthcare practitioner, but at least some of your physical challenges at the moment - from aches and pains to tiredness - are due to this energetic awakening. Take responsible action as you feel is necessary, such as tending to your physical wellbeing with healthcare that feels supportive, but also remember to rest, get some time in nature and nurture your body as it is spiritually awakening into greater light.

*I have watched you hurting
And felt helpless to make life better for you.*

*Loving you is having to make choices
To let you be who you are,
Who you become
And all the who's yet to come.*

*To love you is to ride the waves
Of your passionate embrace of life,
Ever mindful of the change in the wind
And the occasional tempest brewing.*

Loving you is having to make choices,
Knowing it isn't my fault
I can still choose to take it personally,
Or, just be,
While I listen and watch you unfold.

Your heart is a beauty I will always love.
It's the part of you
That hasn't changed much over time.

When I lie beside you and hear you breathe,
When I touch your skin,
Or caress your hair,
You are timeless
And I choose loving you.

20. sweet soul rising

YOU MAY FEEL LOST IN YOUR OWN THOUGHTS AND FEELINGS. This is the sweetness of surrender into another world. It's a time to dream. To wonder. Not to be clear and sharp right at this precise moment! If you have a clear plan, let it become soft and feel your heart open to allowing – allowing whatever may be! We might believe that it is through tough action and dynamic assertiveness that we make our way through the world, yet sometimes the sweetness of the soul rises and instead we can flow gently with the currents of the cosmic ocean, unsure of where we are headed but safe in the truth that all waters naturally return to the ocean, where they are all wanting to go eventually anyway. You can use your own efforts to swim to your destination, against the current at times, or you can float on the sweet love of your own soul, as it enjoys the privilege of getting to know itself as one with the divine.

This oracle brings you guidance now – surrender and flow, this is not the time to assert your will and try to make things happen,
